Beauty and Fitness

Over an area of 650 m², the only concern is the well-being of the body, the soothing of the soul and the relaxation of the spirit. Much greenery and a stylized rocky landscape in a Mediterranean ambience let one easily forget that the hotel is in the middle of a large city. Swim laps in the heated pool. The spa facility with Finnish sauna and shower grotto offers further relaxation. Sporting types will find an excellently appointed gym. Both sauna users and sports enthusiasts are sure to have earned a break at the Mediterranean pool bar. Pure beauty is offered in the beauty department, with a day spa.

Opened daily for hotel guests:

Monday till Friday	6.30 am - 22.00 pm
Saturday and Sunday	8.00 am - 22.00 pm

Restaurants and Bars

Fine Dining Restaurant "Villers"

A pleasure for the eyes and the taste buds: welcome to the elegant, neo-classical ambience of an 18th-century salon. Underneath high ceilings and an opulent crystal chandelier, first-class German and international dishes made from exquisite regional products are served. Around 200 selected wines specialising in the Saxon and Saale/Unstrut regions round out the dining experience.

Vinotheque "1770 – more than wine"

1770 is the year that the Hotel Fuerstenhof, Leipzig was built. 1770 is also the name of the wine bar. Wine-lovers can indulge in their passion here, in a bar with a modern design in warm red and wood tones. An outstanding choice of about 80 open wines from around the world is complemented by fine antipasti, olive specialities from Italy, the best Spanish ham and a large range of French and international cheeses.

Piano Bar

Look back on the day amidst a unique atmosphere coffee and tea specialties, home-made cakes and petit fours are served in the Piano Bar. Two tea masters are available for any wishes or questions. There are also elegant drinks, digestives, classic cocktails and the best cigars from the humidior.

Picturesque Courtyard

On warm summer days the picturesque inner courtyard is open, set among an ensemble of buildings from the hotel and the Reformed Evangelical church. Here, guests can let themselves be spoiled with culinary treats, or enjoy theatre performances and summer concerts. Of course, this lovely spot can also be used for conference breaks during the summer. In winter, on the other hand, the inner courtyard becomes a small Christmas market, with wooden huts offering mulled wine, punch and much more.

Meetings and Events

With an overall capacity for up to 100 people the Hotel Fuerstenhof, Leipzig will leave no desires unfulfilled. The foyer of the hotel, that is leading into the picturesque Inner Courtyard is your perfect location for receptions & coffee breaks for up to 180 guests. Five conference rooms, that have much more to offer than just capacity for a meeting or a conference: The comfortable salons are perfect venues for private events or business meetings in Leipzig. A particular highlight in the hotel is the historic dining hall – called the serpentine hall (gemmed with serpentine). The professional conference staff will offer all required technical equipment at the latest-state-of-the-art standard.

Historical Gem

The Serpentine salon, which has been restored to its original 1865 condition, is an impressive venue for wedding celebrations, banquets and exclusive meetings and welcomes its guests 150 years after construction in its original brilliance. The walls of this famous parlor are covered with the precious stone serpentine: the “marble of the Saxon kings”, which made this historical work of art the only one of its kind in the world.

Be it the up-to-date communication technology, elaborate flower arrangements or a romantic wedding suite: a skilled service team offers planning assistance organizes supporting programs and is readily available to provide individual attention.

Brockhaus Suite (One-bedroom Suite)

A homage to the founder of the world-famous publishing house, the designed 117 m² suite represents both history and innovation. Dark, high wall panels of quilted leather are reminiscent of old English libraries. The designer seating furniture by Walter Knoll and the extraordinary Murano glass chandeliers from Italy's Barovier & Toso accentuate the exclusive ambience. The suite's distinct character is completed by various facsimiles and a 30-volume original version of the 21st and final edition of the Brockhaus Encyclopaedia.

Presidential Suite Fuerstenhof (Two-bedrooms Suite)

Exclusivity in its finest form: the Presidential suite Fürstenhof with two bedrooms and a living room spoil their guests with every imaginable pleasure over an area of 181 m². This suite is fitted with amenities including a comfortable seating area, a "Bang & Olufsen" hi-fi system and two large double beds. In addition, the two spacious bathrooms offer a bath tub, shower, Molton Brown cosmetic products and plenty of space to relax.

Presidential Suite Brockhaus (Two-bedrooms Suite)

Light-flooded and opulent, Leipzig's largest suite unites tradition and history with modern elements in a living space of 181 m². High-end entertainment is provided by a Playstation 4 and the crystal-clear sounds of the Naim Mu-so music system and the Sonos Playbar, while exquisite design classics from the furniture manufacturers Walter Knoll and Fritz Hansen interpret the building's classical outline in a contemporary form language. Exclusivity is brought to life and made tangible by the interior textiles from the Danish producer kvadrat.

General Manager - Joerg Mueller

After qualifying in hotel management Joerg Mueller gained valuable professional experience on the MS ASTOR and with the Renaissance hotel group, for which he worked at a number of hotels in Germany and Bahrain. In 1991 he started at the Hotel Inter Continental Berlin as Events Manager. At the end of 1992 he became Food and Beverage Manager at the Renaissance Cologne Hotel, before being promoted in 1996 to Deputy General Manager of the Renaissance London Heathrow Hotel. Three years later came the transfer to his home city, where he worked as Director of Operations at the Renaissance Hamburg Hotel and at the Hamburg Marriott Hotel. Before Joerg Mueller assumed the position of General Manager at Hotel Fuerstenhof in Leipzig, part of the exclusive Luxury Collection chain of Starwood Hotels & Resorts in April 2004, he worked as General Manager at the Grand Hotel Residencia in Gran Canaria and before that as Deputy General Manager of the prestigious Raffles Vier Jahreszeiten hotel in Hamburg, both members of the "Leading Hotels of the World".

Chef de Cuisine – Hendric Weisswange

Originally from Leipzig, Hendric Weisswange completed his cooking training from 1987 to 1989 at "Hotel am Ring", a hotel of the "Interhotel GDR" group. Right after the political changes, Weisswange moved abroad. In Switzerland and subsequently in France, he gained an in-depth insight into top-class Haute Cuisine and worked for prestigious restaurants. In 1996 he returned back to his hometown Leipzig, together with his French wife. This was exactly at the time when Hotel Fürstenhof after many years of renovation was reopened. Already after a year as Chef de Partie, Weisswange took over the deputy kitchen management as Sous Chef. While his cuisine is based on classic French culinary highlights with modern, temporary elements, he also likes to involve aspects of the Nordic cuisine, where i. a. the main product is the focus. Since January 2018 Weisswange is Chef de Cuisine at the Fine Dining Restaurant "Villers" of the Hotel Fürstenhof, Leipzig.
